NSW Mining

www.nswmining.com.au/education-and-careers

At NSW Mining, we champion innovation and leading practice for a safer, smarter and more sustainable mining sector in NSW. As the peak industry body, NSW Minerals Council promotes the important role mining plays in our society and economy.

The NSW mining industry provides well-paid and secure employment, education and training to school leavers, apprentices and graduates. Mining in NSW supports over 30,000 full-time equivalent jobs, with average salaries across the sector of $144,450.

Indirectly, the NSW mining industry contributes to a workforce of more than 180,000 people, which is the equivalent of almost one in every 20 jobs across the state. And importantly, almost 7,000 local businesses derive at least part of their income from mining each year.

Visit nswminingcareers.com.au if you'd like to learn more about careers in mining in NSW.

Department of Education - Educational Pathways Program

<https://education.nsw.gov.au/public-schools/career-and-study-pathways/educational-pathways-program>

School-based apprenticeships and traineeships (SBATs) enable students in Years 10, 11 or 12 to combine paid work, a nationally-recognised training qualification and HSC completion. Students generally work one day per week, undertake their training one day per week and attend school the remainder of the time. Some apprenticeships and traineeships contribute towards the ATAR.

The Educational Pathways Program supports the SBAT program by offering tailored support and mentoring from dedicated SBAT Engagement Officers, who promote SBAT opportunities, match students and employers, and mentor students, parents and employers throughout a student's SBAT journey. Come and speak with your local SBAT Engagement Officers who would love to provide some advice on how you can take a big step towards the career you want.

Department of Planning and Environment

<https://www.dpie.nsw.gov.au/>

Planning is one of many professions in NSW that is currently experiencing a skills shortage and negative economic impacts as a result. Urban and regional planners have recently been added to the Australian National Skills Commission skills shortage list.

From housing, health, education, sport and recreation, to public space, urban design, tourism, and transport, planners shape our communities to be places where people love to live, work, and play. Planners can reduce our impact on the environment through work in climate change and sustainable design. Planners can work in a range of sectors in Australia and overseas, including:

- Local, state and federal government
- Private consulting, design firms, or not-for-profits
- Property developers
- University research and teaching

Planning is a diverse and interesting area to work in with strong future demand, making it a secure career choice for young people now and in the foreseeable future.

Homes North Community Housing

<https://www.homesnorth.org.au/>

Homes North community housing has 2 Youth programs that are designed to assist homeless or at risk of homelessness young people into independent living.

The HYPAR program is client focused with small steps and attainable goals being created with the young person's own input and ideas. This will help to build the "Adult Foundation for Life" that can support their larger goals and help with confidence and resilience along the way.

Rather than focusing on the big goals, we want to help youth learn what's needed to progress positively towards their goals, achieve a foundation of life skills & retain a successful tenancy.

Rent Choice Youth helps young people to take out a lease in the private rental market and to achieve stability and independence over time. Homes North will work with the young person to achieve their goals for work, education, and financial independence. The young person will be assisted to achieve a positive result from their first tenancy.

Thoroughbred Breeders Australia - Fast Track Program

www.tbaus.com

Thoroughbred Breeders Australia - Fast Track Program

The Australian thoroughbred breeding sector is a world-leader and Thoroughbred Breeders Australia (TBA) is committed to creating a pathway for passionate horse people to enter our industry.

Launched in 2018, Fast Track provides an accelerated introduction and learning experience that will help graduates progress quickly in careers within the breeding industry.

Successful applicants are employed full-time on a respected stud farm for 12-months while studying for a Certificate III in Horse Breeding; a nationally recognised qualification.

As well as the formal equine study, trainees take part in a number of broader learning opportunities aimed at fostering their personal development.

These include defensive driver training with NRMA, first aid, mental health and appropriate workplace behaviour workshops; as well as field trips to major stud farms, vet clinics and the Randwick races.

This opportunity does not require an equine background, just a passion for horses.

TBA is always happy to meet with groups, students and individuals who are interested in learning more about the Fast Track program and the multitude career opportunities offered by the thoroughbred industry.

Information sessions can easily be facilitated via Zoom or in person.

If you would like further information on any of these particular areas please don't hesitate to contact Madison Tims via email at madison@tbaus.com.

Otherwise you can read more about the Fast Track Program and express interest for the 2024 intake HERE: <https://www.tbaus.com/fast-track-program/about-the-fast-track-program/>
